Built in 1875 on the Lincoln Cliff, the windmill sits above the town of Kirton-in-Lindsey. It is a four sail tower mill of brick construction and it continues to work commercially until the sails were removed in 1936. The mill was restored in 1991 and the present owners started production in 2000.

The mill has a shop and tea rooms and it is linked to the True Loaf Bakery, selling organic bread by mail order. All of the products of this mill are stoneground organic flours and the products are pure, sifted or mixed in 10 varieties of flour.

Like all stoneground mills, the flour produced is of the best quality and this is no exception. The stoneground flour has its own individual properties which work exceptionally well with the recipes I have used. Itr is a highly recommended flour.
